Letter from Jerry Jeff

Hang on – it's going to be a bumpy ride into the November election. This feels like the most important election of our lifetime, so be sure you use your vote wisely. I'm not affiliated with any organized party – but I'm the last of the liberal Democrats, and I am the Gypsy Songman. Mostly, I travel. Actually, I'm paid for the travel – the music is free...

I traveled the East coast in July, after doing Pat Green's 4th of July concert here in Austin. The usual hot spots, like Amagansett and Northampton, then a new spot in Albany, called "The Egg." My folks came to that one, and it was great. Then it was on to the Midwest in August. I have really enjoyed playing my Martin Triple-O, and telling stories in listening halls like the Old Fitzgerald in St. Paul.

Susan and I spent a couple of weeks in Europe this summer, and that was an eye opener. It is a different culture there. Smaller, fuel efficient cars, sidewalk cafes with lots of people socializing every evening, and governments implementing programs that benefit the overall well being for everyone.

It looks like solo shows outside of Texas, and band dates in Texas in the future. B.B. King's in N.Y.C., with Django opening in November. This year, we'll stay home for Thanksgiving, and then head to the Grand Casino in Biloxi for a Saturday night show with the full band. For the holidays, we've got the Gruene Hall Christmas shows – I'll be home for Christmas! Then it's New Year's Eve at the new Gilley's in Dallas, followed by the Galveston Opera House show – which will be totally solo for the first time this year. Lots of opportunities over the holidays for you to catch your favorite shows.

Then, two fan outings in Belize in January and February...I plan to spend more time there from now on...maybe we'll do more fan stuff and eventually just live there!

Would you Belize it?

SCHOOL UPDATE:

Things are starting to move! If all goes according to plan, by January we will have a big announcement to make regarding the future location of the American School for Popular Music here in Austin, Texas.

Meanwhile, Mark Featherstone-Witty (the man at the helm of Paul McCartney's Liverpool Institute for the Performing Arts) has offered to hold their annual United States auditions for LIPA in Austin, next May! Having LIPA as our sister school is certainly exciting enough, but to let Austin host these auditions is a feather in the cap for the Tried & True Foundation, to be sure.

So, in January, we'll hopefully announce our plans for the future. With over a quarter of a million dollars in the TTF bank account as our base, we're set to begin a real push for some big donations to get the school up and running within the next few years. Don't let that deter you from making those fabulous, end-of-year, tax deductible donations!

Here's an idea for the holidays: make a tax deductible donation to the Tried & True Foundation before December 15th, and we'll send a holiday greeting card signed by Jerry Jeff to someone on your holiday card list! Send your donation and your request to:
